

Email

Carter Ward

Audience

Faculty, Staff, and Institutional Research teams at four-year residential universities currently using Argos

Subject

How UAH Unified Campus Reporting Across 8 Colleges with Argos

Body

When UAH's Office of Information Technology set out to fix a reporting environment where data was fragmented, inconsistent, and routed entirely through IT, they turned to Evisions Argos. Connected directly to Banner, Argos gave faculty and staff across all eight colleges the ability to run their own reports, access consistent institutional data, and stop waiting on IT for answers. The result was a governed, self-service reporting environment that scaled with the university's growth.

CTA

Read the full case study to see how UAH made it work